Overview

What is the purpose of RAC-CT certification and educational courses?

RAC-CT certification and education have long set the national standard for knowledge of the Skilled Nursing Facility Prospective Payment System (SNF PPS) and MDS 3.0. AAPACN serves the public interest by developing, administering, and reviewing a certification process that reflects current standards of competent performance in clinical assessment and care planning using the RAI/MDS process. Whereas the fundamental concept of the RAI/MDS process is to promote quality of care and quality of life for residents in skilled nursing facilities, the goal of RAC-CT certification and education is to establish that nurses have the knowledge and skills necessary to demonstrate competence in this area.

What are the benefits of certification and education?

Upon completion of the 10 RAC-CT courses, and after passing the exams with a score of 80% or better, you will be allowed to use the credentials RAC-CT to designate your status. This designation indicates you have met a nationally recognized standard of expertise in SNF PPS and MDS 3.0 assessments.

Both individuals and employers can benefit from an individual's receiving RAC-CT certification.

Individual professional benefits can include: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Verification by an independent organization of your mastery of the knowledge required to perform your job • Professional growth and development • Enhanced job opportunities 	Organizational benefits can include: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Increased productivity, as the RAI/MDS process is properly implemented • Less training time needed to educate employees on the complex Medicare regulations and procedures • Accurate billing, leading to full receipt of Medicare funds for services provided • Learn more about the value of AAPACN certification and how certified staff benefit organizations

Who is eligible to take the exams?

AAPACN encourages all members of the interdisciplinary team to seek RAC-CT certification: RNs, LPNs, LVNs, nurse assessment coordinators, physical therapists, occupational therapists, speech therapists, social workers, health information professionals, dietitians, and administrators.

AAPACN recommends that individuals have at least six months of experience with the RAI/MDS process before beginning the certification process. If you have less than six months of experience, consider the MDS 3.0 Essentials On-Demand Workshop and also gaining practical experience in your long-term care facility.

To design the educational path that is right for you, AAPACN has developed the Learning Timeline and Where to Start? Education Quiz to guide you. You can find these resources on the AAPACN website on any Education page in the right-side menu.

How do I register for certification and education?

To purchase the RAC-CT courses and exams in the format most beneficial to you, visit the AAPACN website.

How much does education, certification, and recertification cost?

The RAC-CT program consists of 10 courses, offered in several formats to support various learning styles. The associated certification exams are included with the purchase of each educational course. Recertification requires purchasing the on-demand or live virtual workshop and passing the associated exams with a score of 80% or higher. Pricing is based on cost per course and varies by format. AAPACN members receive substantial discounts.

What is the format of the exam?

A certification exam accompanies each course and is completed online and accessed through your Learner Dashboard on the AAPACN website. The certification exams are an objective, multiple-choice question format. The questions are designed to test your recall of specific knowledge, as well as your ability to analyze and apply that knowledge to example situations. It is not a timed test. The questions test knowledge of the domains and tasks in the RAC-CT Body of Knowledge. The domain emphasis reflects the percentage of questions that comes from each domain. You will be asked to select the correct or best answer from four options. Only one answer is correct for every question.

How do I prepare for the exam?

Content for examinations is not obtained from any one particular source. The RAC-CT Body of Knowledge should be a guideline for study preparation. The educational materials from the online curriculum, as well as the live workshop curriculum, provide a basis of knowledge for exam preparation. You should also utilize current journals, textbooks, source documents like the MDS 3.0 RAI User's Manual, and other reference material related to the subjects listed in the Body of Knowledge as supplemental preparatory materials for the exam.

After reviewing the Body of Knowledge, you can plan your exam preparation based on your general understanding and working knowledge of the subject areas. For example, because of daily use at your current job, you may have a good understanding and working knowledge of some of the domain areas—these areas may need only a quick review as you prepare for the test. For areas with which you are less familiar, you may decide you need more in-depth study or training before completing the certification exam; you can allocate your study time appropriately.

You should also consider what percentage of the test questions will cover each major content area; this information is listed as the domain emphasis percentage in the Body of Knowledge section of this handbook. By focusing your studies, you can spend extra time as needed to thoroughly understand the most significant sources of content area on the exam.

How are reasonable accommodations made?

If you require reasonable accommodations to complete the certification exams for the program, please contact AAPACN toll-free at (800) 768-1880, or by email at memberexperience@AAPACN.org.

Taking the Exam

What are the requirements during the exam?

AAPACN assigns you a username and password as a key control in monitoring and verifying user identity in the Learner Dashboard area of the AAPACN website. This log-in information helps ensure that each user's information is available only to the authorized user. As a user of the Learner Dashboard, it is important that you do not share this username and password with anyone. You should be the only one to access and complete your exam and course material in your Learner Dashboard.

Once you begin each certification exam, you may complete it either in one sitting or in sections. It is an open-book format, so you may use reference materials when you take the exam. However, you cannot seek assistance from other individuals while completing the exam. The exams are offered on an honor-system basis that assumes you will act in good faith to ensure your performance is an accurate representation of your own personal knowledge and skills related to the subject matter.

AAPACN does not tolerate cheating or any breach of academic or professional ethics that may compromise the security or integrity of its certification exams. All incidents of reported cheating will be investigated. Discussing content found on the certification exams is strictly prohibited; any such posts on Community discussion boards will be removed. Anyone found compromising the security of the exams by attempting to copy, record, or distribute questions in any manner will be permanently excluded from the certification process.

After the Test

How is my information kept confidential?

Information about candidates and their examination results is confidential. AAPACN carefully protects your data from loss, misuse, unauthorized access or disclosure, alteration, or destruction. Within the company, data is stored in password-controlled servers with limited access. Your personal information is never shared outside the company without your permission, unless required by law to comply with a current judicial proceeding, court order, or legal process. If AAPACN is required by law to release your confidential information, you will be notified by email, unless prohibited by law.

How is the exam scored?

The RAC-CT exams, as well as RAC-CT courses and workshops, set a standard of basic levels of knowledge that can reasonably be expected of long-term care professionals involved in the RAI/MDS process. Your performance on the exams will be measured against this predetermined standard to assess your competency in these subject matters. Your performance will not be measured against other candidates taking the certification exams; your individual performance will determine whether you meet the knowledge standards required to pass.

What information will I receive about my score?

Once you have completed the examination, you will be presented with the percentage of questions correctly answered. Based on the percentage, your exam results will indicate “pass” or “fail.” You must achieve a score of 80% or better to pass the exam.

To protect the confidentiality of the exam content, and to maintain the value and integrity of the certification, AAPACN does not provide the correct answers to missed questions on the exam results. The certification exam is intended to measure proficiency in the subject and to determine whether an individual has the knowledge necessary for certification.

When will I receive my score?

The certification exams are self-scoring and provide immediate feedback. Upon completion of the exam, your computer screen will display the percentage of correctly answered questions and indicate “pass” or “fail.” You may access this information at a later date by logging into your Learner Dashboard.

Once you pass 10 certification exams, you may begin using the credentials RAC-CT to designate your status as a certified Resident Assessment Coordinator. Credentials are awarded for a two-year period.

Can I retake the exam if I don't pass?

You have three attempts to pass the certification exam with a score of 80% or better. If you have exhausted all exam attempts, you may request additional attempts one time per course. If your request is approved, you will receive an additional three exam attempts. If you do not pass after six attempts, you must wait one year before taking the certification exams again.

In the case of an extenuating circumstance, you can submit a formal, written appeal to request an exception to the policy. To begin the appeals process, login to your Learner Dashboard and click on the “Apply for Appeal” link in the menu on the left-hand side of the site.

Is there an appeals provision?

AAPACN works diligently to provide top-quality course materials and exams using a standardized process of question development and validation. AAPACN also affords candidates a high level of flexibility in completing the exam. Due to these policies and procedures, an appeal will be heard only in the case of an extenuating circumstance. In this case, you may submit a formal, written appeal to AAPACN to request an exception to the policy. To begin the appeals process, login to your Learner Dashboard and click on the “Apply for Appeal” link in the menu on the left-hand side of the site.

Recertification: Certification MaintenanceWhen do I need to recertify?

The RAC-CT certification is valid for two years from your certification completion date. Your credential expires two years from when you completed your exam requirements. Your exact expiration date can be found in your Learner Dashboard, in the Certifications section. You must complete your recertification requirements by the expiration date of your credential. If you do not complete the recertification requirements by your certification expiration date, you will be required to re-start the full program to regain your certification at a later date.

What are the recertification requirements?

To maintain your RAC-CT certification, you must recertify every two years. To recertify, you must take and pass the recertification exams. Alternatively, you can complete the 10-course RAC-CT program again.

Each recertification exam requires a passing score of 80% or better.

Purchasing recertification courses does not extend the expiration date of your credential. The expiration date for your credential remains the same, regardless of when your course materials expire.

How much does RAC-CT recertification cost?

Recertification pricing can be found on the AAPACN website.

What if I let my certification lapse?

You must complete your recertification requirements by the expiration date of your credential. If you do not complete the recertification requirements by your certification expiration date, you will be required to re-start the full program to regain your certification at a later date.

In the case of extenuating circumstances, you can submit a formal, written appeal to AAPACN to request an exception to the policy. To find out how to submit an appeal, contact the AAPACN Member Experience Department at memberexperience@AAPACN.org.
